

EAEP 2011

The 5th International Symposium on the East Asian Environmental Problems

Organized by

Research Institute for East Asia Environments, Kyushu University

November 14-15, 2011, Fukuoka Garden Palace Hotel, Fukuoka, Japan

Call for Papers

The East Asia countries, especially China, have been achieving rapid economic progress. However, this progress inevitably accompanies serious environmental repercussions. Environmental issues have no national boundaries. What is important is not to look on our neighbors' misfortunes with indifference, but to maintain the reciprocal relationship. It is also of urgent matter that the scientists of East Asia countries including China, Korea and Japan cooperate and find comprehensive solutions for these environmental issues.

We would like you to participate in the 5th international symposium on the East Asian Environmental Problems, which will be held on November 14-15 in Fukuoka. This symposium presents scientific knowledge, technologies, and environmental issues. Topics of major interests are listed below:

1. Urban environment
2. Low carbon society
3. Food risk and assessment
4. Aqueous environment and hydrology
5. Desertification prevention
6. Atmospheric environment
7. Marine environment
8. Environmental chemistry
9. Environmental planning and management

Please submit your abstract electronically to the symposium secretariat via e-mail below. After the receipt in your abstract, we will send a guideline of full-text paper for the proceedings of EAEP 2011.

For those who submit abstracts and papers, Registration Form should be sent in advance to Secretariat via e-mail or FAX by 14th July 2011.
